The Story of Alice in Wonderland

Our story begins in the town center. Friends greet each other and enjoy the beautiful day. As with any town, there is some drama that takes place too. Alice wants to join in the fun, but her sister has other ideas.

Alice and her older sister argue about Alice's lack of enthusiasm regarding her studies. As soon as her sister leaves, Alice abandons her book and lays down for a nap. Out of nowhere a silly white rabbit appears who is in a tizzy over being late. Alice chases the rabbit throughout the garden and suddenly falls down a rabbit hole.

As she falls, Alice is greeted by mysterious maze masters. Alice finds a bottle of liquid and when she takes a drink from it, she immediately shrinks. She then eats from a large cookie and grows normal again. A series of mysterious mirrors appear that change her back and forth in size.

Alice emerges from the rabbit hole only to discover she has landed in a mysterious land. Exhausted, she faints. When she awakes, she is frightened and begins to cry, creating an ocean of tears. Through the ocean, she is greeted by the Queen of the Mist and her Sea Sprites. They try to befriend her but they are interrupted by rowdy pirates. The pirates try to capture Alice only to be defeated by the sea sprites who steal their treasure!

Wonderland is a magical garden full of butterflies and flowers. Alice is greeted by many creatures of the magical land. Alice pleads with the cheshire cat to explain where she is. Suddenly, the Mad Hatter appears intent on preparations for his Tea Party. Soon, the White Rabbit appears in a rush. Alice, joined by the Mad Hatter, March Hare and the Door Mouse capture the White rabbit. Alice pleads with the White Rabbit to show her the way home but he frantically escapes. The Mad Hatter and the March Hare gleefully agree to help Alice find him!

Alice arrives at the the Red Queen's gardens, who she finds to be quite mad. Pink Flamingos appear who are forced into a game of croquet. The Red Queen had baked some tarts that summer day and the Knave of Hearts steals them - and faces dire consequences. Alice confronts the Red Queen while the Mad Hatter and March Hare rescue the Knave from certain death. The Red Queen tells Alice that she must go to the White Queen, retrieve the magic sword, and bring it back to the palace or it will be "Off with her head!" for Alice.

At the Palace of the White Queen, the queen enters and is surprised by Alice and her friends. Alice pleads with her for the magic sword. The White Queen gives it to her only to find that Alice is terrified and pleads to give it back. The White queen agrees to accompany them in their return to face the Red Queen.

The foursome returns to face the Red Queen. The Red Queen orders the guards to attack. A fierce battle follows.

Suddenly everyone vanishes leaving Alice alone. Slowly all the characters begin to swirl around her as if in a dream. Alice awakens to discover herself back home in her garden. She believes it must have all been a dream...But, no one knows for sure the power of Wonderland.
